Facility information:

Strawberry Butte is an active fire lookout facility staffed from June to September during times of high forest fire dangers. The site is accessed by a steep dirt road which is sometimes blocked by a gate. Hiking and biking to the facility are allowed when the gate is closed. A 4WD vehicle is recommended but not required in summer months with dry roads. When staffed, climbing to the top of the tower is allowed for those with a stern constitution for heights and a desire for a panoramic views of the surroundings. Public restrooms are available.

On the way:

Just after turning onto Warm Springs road you'll notice the remains of a series of kilns, remnants of the area's mining history. On the other side of the road lay the barely visible remains of the Sunnyside Sanitarium and Hot Springs. The nursing facility near by uses the hot water from these springs to heat the buildings. Please note all these features are located on privately owned property and can be viewed from the road only with permission of the respective land owners.

Hiking, biking and off road vehicle trail information:

Willard Creek Trail 301

Several hiking trails start or can be reached by taking the un-named road with the Willard Creek trail head sign on the right approximately 7 miles east of the park. This area is surrounded by patented gold mining claims that are active to this day.

Haab Ranch Strawberry biking trail network

Looking for a challenging bike ride or hike through the wood close by? The strawberry trail is public/private trail through lush forest with entrances at both the top and bottom of the mountain. Ask a staff member about arranging a ride to the trail head.

Warm Springs road travels through the Helena National Forest and Elkhorn Wildlife areas. Miles of roads intersect offering hours of adventure and exploring via bicycle or off road vehicle. These roads are easements through both public and private lands. Please stay on the roads at all times and respect all boundaries, road signs, and gates.
